1 A pearl is a hard rounded object produced by mollusks such as oysters. Pearls are formed inside the shells of certain mollusks when a grain of sand or other foreign matter irritates the softer part of the animals. Pearls are usually white but they may be yellow, pinkish, beige or black.
2–6 Open answers
7 The most common size of pearls is around seven millimeters.
8 We’re told that Kino was afraid to open the big oyster but we aren’t told why he was so afraid. Perhaps he was afraid of another disappointment or perhaps he already sensed that the pearl inside that oyster would change his life for good.

10 Kino wanted to:
  • marry in the church
  • buy Juana a skirt and shoes
  • buy himself white clothes, a black hat and shoes
  • buy Coyotito a blue suit from the United States and a little hat
  • buy himself new fishing equipment and a gun
  • send Coyotito to school for him to learn how to read and write and to learn the numbers

14 The doctor lies to Coyotito’s parents and tells them that the poison of the scorpion is still inside the baby when we know the child was already better thanks to the sea plants that Juana had put on his shoulder. To “help” him, he gives Coyotito a drug and tells his parents that he will come later to save the baby. When the doctor returns, Coyotito is in great pain. He gives the child another drug and he soon feels better. Juana thinks that it’s thanks to the doctor.
15 We don’t know who the first thief is though he may have been sent by the doctor. The latter had seen Kino’s eyes move towards the floor in a corner of his house and it was there that the thief searched for the pearl. Kino’s knife may have wounded the thief but we’re only told that he felt his knife go through cloth (page 28).
16 Juana thinks that the pearl will destroy them. This is why she wants to throw the pearl back into the sea or break it between stones or bury it and forget the place. Instead, Kino wants to keep it to be able to send Coyotito to school for him to live better than they do.
17–21 Open answers
22 She doesn’t because, probably, she now realizes that their old way of life is gone forever as Kino has just killed a man.
23 The canoe was of vital importance for Kino because, being an oyster fisherman, it was his means of reaching the oyster bed. Besides, he had inherited it from his grandfather and his father who had also been able to make a living thanks to it.
